YESTERDAY'S PRACTICE WAS THE FINAL WORKOUT BEFORE TOMORROW'S DECISIVE GAME

Team Leave This Afternoon for Ottawa and They will be at Full Strenth for the Deciding Struggle--Paisley's Hand is Much Better and he will be in the Game

WALTER MOLSON AND DR. HEADRIE TO ACT

To-morrow we will know who has won the Championship of the Inter-collegiate for this season. The coming contest has excited great interest and at Saturday's game there will be representatives from nearly all the large Canadian cities, and also many of the American Colleges. Varsity have four years in succession now been champions of the Inter-collegiate Rugby Union and are confident of repeating again this year.

McGill will be represented by the strongest team she has had for many seasons and can be counted upon to make Varsity travel the limit on Saturday. The McGill team have been coached this year by one of the best football coaches in Canada, at the present time. Shaughnessy came here with practically no knowledge of the Canadian game and the way he has got together one of the greatest teams that the Dominion has ever known, is sufficient proof of his ability as a coach.

The McGill back division is very strong and this is a considerable change from former years, when McGill has often had the best wing line in the game, but been woeful weak on the half-line. Billington, Draper and Paisley who have been the regular back division all season are as strong a combination as could be wished for. Billington's kicking is of the best and Billie for the last two years has been the unanimous choice for centre half on the All Star team picked every fall. George Draper is a new man this year and has made good in a splendid manner and can catch, kick and run with the best of them. Paisley, who may be able to play this Saturday, has been playing a beautiful game this season, and Varsity would be very happy if 'Pep' can't play.

McEvenue at quarter has been putting up a beautiful brand of football and will keep Pete Campbell's team on the jump on Saturday.

Our wing-line has played a very brilliant game all season and although they are about ten pounds a man lighter than Varsity are expected to tear great holes in the Blue and White line.

Varsity held Queen's perfectly last Saturday, the Red, Yellow and Blue, never once bucking for a yard. Toronto themselves never bucked for a yard once till Maynard came on and then they seemed to do this with ease. Maynard will be in the game this Saturday and Varsity can be expected to be confident of tearing up McGill's line. It is a pretty safe bet that the Blue and White will be lucky if they can make a yard through our line which is just as strong on defence as on offence.

From present conditions it looks as if the ground would be in very wet condition as this slush is sure to make any field sloppy, no matter how well drained it may be. McGill has shown her best form on wet grounds this year as the only game which she has lost was played on a fairly dry field. Varsity displayed good form last Saturday in Kingston on a wet, muddy field, but there is no doubt that the wetter the field the less effective are Varsity's end runs. This is their best play so a wet field is bound to boost our chances. The general wish among our players has been for dry grounds as the fellows believe that they can defeat Varsity no matter what the weather conditions may be.

Yesterday afternoon, Shaughnessy sent the men through a light signal practice which once more demonstrated that the plays are running as smoothly as clock-work. All the seniors were out, and all are in good condition with the exception of Paisley, whose hand may be well enough to allow of his taking part in tomorrow's contest.

The players are all anxious to be in the game and are neither too confident of winning nor do they believe that Varsity is in any way their superior.

DR. PERRIN CAVE BRILLIANT RECITAL

Large Audience in Toronto
Hear Talented McGill Professor

Dr. Perrin has just returned from Toronto where he gave an organ recital on Wednesday, November 13th, in the Convocation Hall of Toronto University. An audience of about one thousand were present composed mostly of members of the staff and students who listened with rapt attention to the following numbers.

1. Allegro Appassionato, Basil Harwood (1859).
2. Capriccio in B flat, Filippo Cacci, (1840)
3. Legend in C. op. 59. No. 4. Anton Doorak (1841-1901)
4. Prelude and Frigue in A minor, John Sebastian Bach (1685-1750)
5. La Filleaux cheveux de lin, Danseuses de Delphes, La Petit Berger, Claude Achille Debussy, (1862)
6. Rhapsody in D, Rhapsody in E, Camille Saint-Saens, (1835)
7. Finale to Sonata in F. (No. 20) Joseph Rheinberger, (1839-1901)

The organ which has recently been installed is built by Messrs Casavan of St. Hyacinth and is thought by experts to be one of the finest organs in Canada. The builders consider it one of the most successful of their installations. There are four manuals and altogether seventy-six separate speaking stops besides thirty-two couplers and about twenty pistons which offer adjustments of various combinations of stops. It is interesting.

NORFIELD SUPPER ON MONDAY NIGHT

Mr. Dowie will Speak on the Conference

The next monthly supper of the Y. W.C.A. will take place next Monday at six o'clock. It will be followed by a lantern lecture on the "Northfield Conference" given by Mr. Dowie as well as informal speeches by some of last year's delegates. It is sincerely hoped that there will be a large attendance and that all men unable to be present will make up for it by trying to make arrangements to go next year. As "Bill" Hughes says, it is a privilege and a duty for every man, who can possibly do it, to attend this great conference, which takes place during the last ten days of June at Northfield, a lovely little village situated in the valley of the Connecticut, in the state of Massachusetts. In the morning Bible and Mission study classes are held as well as a platform meeting. The afternoon is given over to sports of different kinds, and after supper another meeting takes place in the "auditorium." The greatest thing about Northfield is probably the meeting of so many different men generally the pick of the colleges. Everybody who has ever been at Northfield wants to go back.

Tickets for the supper are on sale at Strathcona Hall. The meeting will be over at eight o'clock at the latest.

"Now, fellows, if any of you are here to seek pleasure you are seeking it in the wrong place. There is pleasure in abundance to be found here, but you will not find it by seeking for it. You can spend a great deal of labor over it and get nothing. I know of no occupation in life more barren of results than the permanent seeking of pleasure. Pleasure is a by-product of life. It is a by-product of doing something that is worth doing. Therefore do not seek pleasure as such. Pleasure comes from seeking something else and comes by the way. The whole point of enjoying recreation is that it is not your permanent occupation. The man who is seeking pleasure as his main occupation in life never has any recreation because he never can turn to anything else.

"You will get a vast deal of pleasure here, but my experience with the men I meet in college is that the men who get the most pleasure out of it are those who are trying to do something worth doing in some direction or other."

BASKETBALL

The first basketball practice was held last week. An exceptionally large number turned out and there seems to be some very promising new material.

There have been several practices since then and from all indications the teams are very evenly matched, so the inter class games this year ought to be very interesting. The Freshies have a lot of good material and the Juniors are playing up very well, their team has been strengthened by several new players from the West.

The next practice will be on Saturday morning from ten to twelve, as many as possible are requested to attend. The dates for the inter-class matches have not yet been posted, but they are to begin next week.

Miss Cartwright has been very kind in coaching at the different practices and has given up a great deal of her time to helping each of the teams.

The College as a whole is greatly disappointed at being unable to have any outside matches this year. Macdonald College refused to play any but a team chosen from the first two

CONCERNING CONDUCT

At the Routers' Rally yesterday afternoon pleas were made for the good behaviour of the Students while they are in Ottawa. It was felt by the Council that any disturbance would reflect discreditably not only on the parties concerned but also on our Alma Mater.

That such a reminder should be deemed necessary reflects no credit on the undergraduates of this University. Surely they should realize without being told, that, whatever their status is in Montreal, they are, when in Ottawa, purely and simply the guests of the city. It should be plain to them that any disturbance or breaking of the peace is an infraction of the most elementary rules of hospitality. It is fortunate for McGill that the play-off is a point so close at hand and it is obviously desirable that we should leave as good an impression as possible behind us as we may desire the good offices of many people in the Capital in connection with play-offs in the future.

It will be remembered by our readers that the Council passed a motion after the disturbance on Sports Day. This was intended as a warning to all offenders that in future the Council will refuse to countenance any such proceedings and will deal with the disturbers with the utmost severity.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

In the name of all the undergraduates the Daily wishes to thank the Members of Corporation for the courtesy they have extended to the students in the matter of the suspension of the attendance rule to-morrow morning. The Governors and Faculty may rest assured that their kindness in this matter is recognized by all and that the interest displayed by them in undergraduate activities is most deeply appreciated.

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING SUSPENSION OF LECTURES ON SATURDAY

All Students Who Takes the Trip to Ottawa will be released from the Attendance rule if they Sign a List When Buying Their Railway Ticket

CONSIDERATE ACTION BY THE GOVERNORS

The following letter was received yesterday afternoon by the President of the Council.

November 14th, 1912.

John MacNaughton, Esq.,
President Students' Council
McGill Union.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter on behalf of the Students' Council requesting that Saturday next should be declared a holiday in order that as many students as possible might consider themselves free to attend the football match in Ottawa on that date was presented at the meeting of Corporation held yesterday, and it was decided in view of the fact that a large number of students would not take the trip to Ottawa that it would not be advisable to grant a general holiday. It was agreed however that in the case of those who patronize the excursion, their absence from lectures or laboratory instruction would not be counted against them. It was considered that the best way in which the names of those who should be thus excused could be taken would be by making note of the purchasers of tickets at the time of the sale.

Yours very truly,

J. A. Nicholson.

years. The Athletic Society decided that this was quite unfair to the R. V.C. and the trophy was returned to Macdonald. The usual matches played in the city will have to be cancelled also for there have been no other teams organized this year. However, there will be one good result from this state of affairs; basketball will be over much earlier than usual and there will be more time to devote to hockey which has been somewhat neglected during the last two years.

UNDERGRAD SOCIETY

There will be a meeting of the Undergraduate Society in the Common Room, Thursday at 1 o'clock.

Important business is to be discussed, about debating with Macdonald College and many other matters.

Y.W.C.A.
The regular meeting of the Y.W.C.A. will be held in the Common Room Friday afternoon at five o'clock.

The speaker will be Miss Robinson, the secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement of the Y.W.C.A. in Canada. For some reason this particular phase of the Society's work has been very little noticed in the college while in other Canadian colleges there have been several volunteers. Miss Robinson will outline the aims and work of the movement and everyone at all interested in the work should not fail to hear her.

The Northwestern Magazine is facing the greatest crisis in its career. From present indications the publication will have to be abandoned because of a lack of funds.

THE FOOTBALL RALLY PROVED SUCCESSFUL

There was a Very Big attendance at Strathcona Hall Last Night

The football rally at Strathcona Hall yesterday afternoon was successful in every way. There was a very large attendance of students and many speakers addressed the meeting.

It was decided to get dollar seats for the rooters. The tickets may be obtained either to-night from Bill Hughes or the Supply Room.

Mr. John McNaughton was the first speaker, who said:

"There has been some criticism lately about the Council's method in arranging the trip to Ottawa. The Council did everything in its power to get as low a rate as possible, but the lowest that could be got was $3.35. Mr. Barclay then inquired about the railway rates, at the Railway Commission, but the lowest rate was $3.35."

LEWIS

"Some students have said that it would be possible to go to Ottawa for $1.99. Such a thing is impossible. The rates on the C.P.R. and G.T.R. are the same, but the G.T.R. offered to advertise in the Daily. We thought it would be just as well to take their offer."

"There has also been some criticism of the Students Supply. If a student buys a book at the Supply and then let a book-chopper clean it and goes to the Supply, the difference will be refunded to him, except when the book is getting hard to be a leader—but is also sold at a low price."

"Rumors have been going around to the effect that there is graft in connection with the Council. This is all other news."

"If in one has any suggestions to make we will gladly accept them."

Mr. McNaughton then spoke for a few minutes on the present state of affairs.

ARGUE

THE BUNSEN BURNERS SCATHING RESPONSE

Harry Hull Hauls Hasty Highbrow Over the Coals

November 14th, 1912.

The Editor, McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—

In your issue of the 12th inst. appears a letter signed by one "Sincerity" babbling about yellow journalism and imaginary clubs such as the Bunsen Burners. May I through the medium of your paper, as I have no other means of doing so, enlighten this person Sincerity.

The Bunsen Burner Hockey Club is a perfectly genuine aggregation, formed for the purpose of obtaining a little amusement during the winter. Our meetings are quite genuine and I should like to know by what right Sincerity makes it his business to criticize the management of the club, or with obviously wrong information to cast aspersions on a bona-fide organization, furthermore if the Editor considers these meetings of sufficient interest, to the majority of the readers, to warrant their insertion in the columns of the Daily I cannot see any reason for the criticism on the part of Sincerity.

CRICKSHANES

"The Supply has not received a single cent for any of the trips," he said.

"The reports that graft has been going on in the Supply are altogether false. If any man has a charge of graft against the Supply there is $100.00 waiting for him if he can prove it!"

"As to the Supply, there has been a great deal of unnecessary criticism. I have asked, through the columns of the 'Daily' for any suggestions but no one has turned up with any. It is strange that those 'knockers' who have been writing so much to the Daily should have nothing to say."

"The books of the Supply are open to all and we invite anyone to inspect them."

Mr. Jno. McNaughton then advised those present to be sure to keep the peace when in Ottawa.

"Jimmy" Lee was the next speaker and said:

"Well, fellow, there is not much for me to say. On Saturday, in Ottawa your team are going to do their utmost to bring the championship back to McGill. We have viewed hard all year with this aim in view and if we do not succeed it will not be on account of determination, but because Varsity are the better team."

"I would like to impress on you the fact that it is desirable that McGill men should create no disturbance in Ottawa. Let us all go up and have behind us when we come away, an impression that we are all gentlemen."

"We want every man who can possibly get up to come and cheer the team on to victory. You can all do your part and it is up to you to lift the roof off that grandstand."

"Three cheers for Jimmy Lee!"

"Tiger!"

Coach Shaughnessy was the next speaker.

"Boys," he said, "I am not supposed to be in here at all, but I want to see you all up in Ottawa to root for the team. We don't hear what you say but we feel you are there!"

"Tooley" Watrous was the next speaker and said:

"I don't know why you've got me here. I hope everybody will come up as the rooting certainly does help a lot."

"Three cheers for Tooley!"

Woodlatt was the next speaker.

"I hope you'll all be up and help us along as it certainly does help."

"There will be a lot of rooters practice to-night."

INTERESTING LECTURE ON PANAMA CANAL

C. R. Coutlee of Ottawa Addressed Science Undergrad

A most interesting and instructive lecture on the Panama Canal was given to the Undergraduate Society of Applied Science on Wednesday evening by Mr. C. R. Coutlee, of Ottawa. The lecturer, who personally visited the works and investigated the subject from all points of view, commenced by giving a brief history of the project, including the failure of the French Companies, and the ultimate purchase of the rights and plant by the United States Government. The problems before the designers, and the reasons for the plans finally adopted were fully discussed, from all points of view, more particularly with relation to strategy. The actual work was now dealt with section by section, perhaps the most interesting feature being the methods of overcoming the unforeseen difficulties which cropped up in the progress of the work. The administrative and hygiene departments were now dealt with, perhaps the most difficult part of the operations. At the conclusion a number of most interesting photographs were shown on the screen, which served admirably to give a conception of the scale on which the whole of the work is carried on.

The Chairman then rose to thank Mr. Coutlee very heartily for his lecture. It is a very great compliment to the University and one which we all greatly appreciate, that a man of Mr. Coutlee's position should be willing to devote so much of his valuable time to come and lecture to us.

The dean of the Kansas Medical School recently gave a warning to the students against overstudy. He said that there was an especial danger of girls irretrievably ruining their health through overwork.

THINGS THEATRICAL

PRINCESS THEATRE

Milton and Sargent Aborn have provided many worthy grand opera productions to the history of opera in English, and at the present time are successfully exploiting throughout the United States and Canada two English grand opera companies, each presenting a repertoire of classic grand opera in English, and two big spectacular productions of Balfe's "Bohemian Girl." Their latest success and what is said to be their crowning effort is a massive spectacular production of "The Chimes of Normandy" by the Aborn Opera Co., a newly founded organization of eighty singers, for the purpose of presenting true opera comique in a manner that is intended to perpetuate in the new world the glorious traditions of the famous opera comique in Paris. Planquette's delightful romantic masterpiece is the first of the classics selected for production by this new Aborn Company, and the staging of this offering, from an artistic, realistic and spectacular point of view is said to far exceed all previous efforts by these managers.

This latest offering will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre all next week. Massive cyclorama scenes have been provided by Reisig and P. Dodd Ackermann of the Manhattan Opera House, elaborating on the scenes of the Normandy village by the sea; the famous ancestral hall of the haunted "Chateau de Cornerville," the apple orchard in bloom, the garden fete and to lend realism to the big fair scene—marvellous acrobats. The Seven Grunathos (six of them women) etc., are introduced. To make this a truly meritorious presentation Messrs. Aborn have selected the cast and chorus with great care. The solo cast is made up of artists who have been chosen not only for their exceptional ability as singers, but as true types of the markedly picturesque and contrasted roles. Miss Vinie Daly, an American singer, who returns to this country from recent grand opera successes in Europe, and who last season was especially engaged for the role of Serpolette in Oscar Hammerstein's grand opera production of "The Chimes of Normandy" in London, where she scored a remarkable success, will be heard in the same role here. The role of Gaspard, the miser, will be in the hands of William Wolff, whose interpretation of the part is conceded to be the most representative on record, he having essayed the character both in Europe and this country for a total of more than one thousand times. Miss Daisy Leon has been chosen for the role of Germaine, not only on account of her beautiful soprano voice, but because she possesses an acting ability of no uncertain degree, and a petite and charming personality, all of which are necessary attributes of the ideal impersonator of the role. Carl Haydn, the romantic tenor, will be heard as Grenechieux, Carrick Major will be the Marquis, Wm. H. White the Bailie, Johnstone Flynn the Notary, and Misses Brooks, Phelps, Calvert, Soma, Howard and Morelle the village maidens. A large and attractive chorus of young and well drilled singers will be in evidence. The production was staged and is under the personal direction of that erstwhile wizard director of the New York Hippodrome, Edward P. Temple. All of Planquette's delightful melodies including—"The Legend of the Bells," "On Billows Rocking," "It was in September," "Just Look at This," "I May be Princess," "Silent Heroes," etc., etc., will be rendered in this extreme realistic presentation.

THE ORPHEUM

The Orpheum management will next week offer "The concealed Bed," a comedy playlet by Graham Moffat, author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," "A Scrape O' the Pen," etc. It was this sketch which created such an impression where it ran several months B. A. Raffe will present his "Courtier's," one of the best musical attractions in vaudeville; Miss Lillian Shaw, comedienne, will hold an important position in this bill. Marshall Montgomery, ventriloquist, will be one of the real treats of the show. The Two Joneys will give the first American showing here next week; Reiser and Gores, are singing and talking comedians; the Revolving Collins, is one of the best roller skaters in America.

In addition to their present activities, Messrs. Aborn have recently contracted to present in the great temples of music throughout America the Vollmoller, Humpernick, and Reinhardt, symphonic Vision Drama, "The Miracle" which has been a sensational success for the past year at Olympia in London.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Stevenson in his able letter which has helped to dispel the gloom in which the method of running the Supply has apparently been wrapped, says that the Committee are waiting to see whether the Supply is paying its way before consulting the student body as to what lines it shall be run on.

Now, unless I am greatly mistaken, there appeared in these columns a few weeks ago an article dealing with the Students Supply, in which it was stated that the Supply was already in a flourishing condition and that a considerable profit had been, or was about to be (I quote from memory) handed over to the Students' Council. If we couple this statement with the following one in Mr. Stevenson's letter—"the running expenses for the first year of any business are found to be higher than they will be in succeeding years," we can have no reasonable doubt, surely, of the ability of the Supply to pay its way. Although this, of course, cannot be proved yet, the probability warrants the putting forward at once by the Committee of a plan for running the Supply in the future, in order that it may be tried before this session ends so that a good workable scheme be arrived at for next session.

And where, Sir, can this plan be put forward more appropriately than in these columns? Mr. Stevenson asks for suggestions, but till the plan of operating the Supply has been decided upon, it is not much good bringing forward petty details. If the Committee could see their way to publishing in the Daily a preliminary draft of their proposals and if possible with it the latest balance sheet showing the profits from various sources, it would be possible for those interested to form a reliable basis from which to make suggestions or alternatives. In this way the Committee will have the advantage of suggestions from a great many men while the men will have the corresponding advantage of having seen every aspect of the question and of so forming their individual opinions before the Council's final scheme is laid before them. With apologies for trespassing on your valuable space, I beg to sign myself

Dear Sir:—

Will you kindly permit me to express my views about a Science dinner. Before hearing the discussion at the recent meeting of the Undergraduate Society I had given the subject but little thought. Personally it did not appeal to me, because I thought I would not have a good time. Now why? If you look on a dinner as a play to let yourself out and have a ripping time not giving a hoot for anything or anyone, I would say, I do not want it; for before freshmen and strangers I would not care to do so, whatever I might do elsewhere.

To a great majority of the Science students those in the other years are strangers and in the past the Science Dinner has not helped to make them acquainted. As a general thing a few friends get together and virtually have a little banquet by themselves. They pay little attention to anyone else and in some cases to what the speakers say. Afterwards many remark we would have had a better time somewhere else by ourselves and it would not have cost so much.

If the dinner were well attended, and if those in attendance acted in an exemplary manner, it would be a pleasure to meet one's fellow-students in good fellowship, to partake of the fine things provided by the caterer and afterwards to listen to a number of excellent speeches.

As it is, a stranger at one of our dinners would receive, what I hope would be a very false impression of the students in our Applied Science Faculty.

Yours truly,
G. M. IRWIN.

REPORT SUBMITTED TO CORPORATION

The Following Report was Submitted to Corporation by Committee of Morals and Discipline

The following report was presented by Dean Moyse, chairman of the committee of Morals and Discipline, at a meeting of Corporation on Wednesday last.

"Your Committee begs to report that it has carefully watched all the proceedings connected with the recent disturbance on the part of the students and has been in close touch with the Students' Council; that investigation has failed to identify any of the students responsible for the most reprehensible acts of egg throwing, which bring discredit on the University and which are justly resented by the city; that the students who were arrested have been dealt with by the courts of justice and that your Committee sees no cause for further action in their case.

Your Committee in conjunction with the Students' Council have resolved to take steps to prevent the recurrence of such disturbances, and also to secure, whenever possible, the names of any students who are responsible for any trouble that may arise, as it is felt that this is the only way of making discipline effective.

Your Committee strongly recommends that action be taken to secure through the Students' Council and also through the police that no students' procession shall be allowed on St. Catherine Street where the public is already greatly inconvenienced by the congestion of traffic.

Your Committee takes this opportunity of thanking the Students' Council for the valuable assistance they have given in preserving the good name of the University, and is at the same time assured that the Council has the great mass of students with them in any effort they make towards the end indicated."

As a result of communications between the Committee, the students of the third and fourth years (who are fully aware of the discredit which such acts of violence bring on the University) and Chief of Police, Campeau, a plan has been devised by which the likelihood of serious disturbances on the part of students resulting in damage or injury can be guarded against. While it is impossible to speak of the future with absolute certainty there is some hope that student demonstrations will by these precautions be kept within reasonable bound.

They thought that none could beat them,
Then they played McGill and found
That M-C-G- could whip 'em.

For McGill is out for gore,
To-day they'll whip 'em better.

esting to note that the bursar of Toronto University Mr. Moore is a very capable organist and gave the opening recital last June. Dr. Perrin speaks with great enthusiasm of the organ and convocation hall. Let us hope they may soon become a reality in Old McGill, as they have been for some time in Toronto. Then we too may receive the benefit of such recitals given by our own faculty.

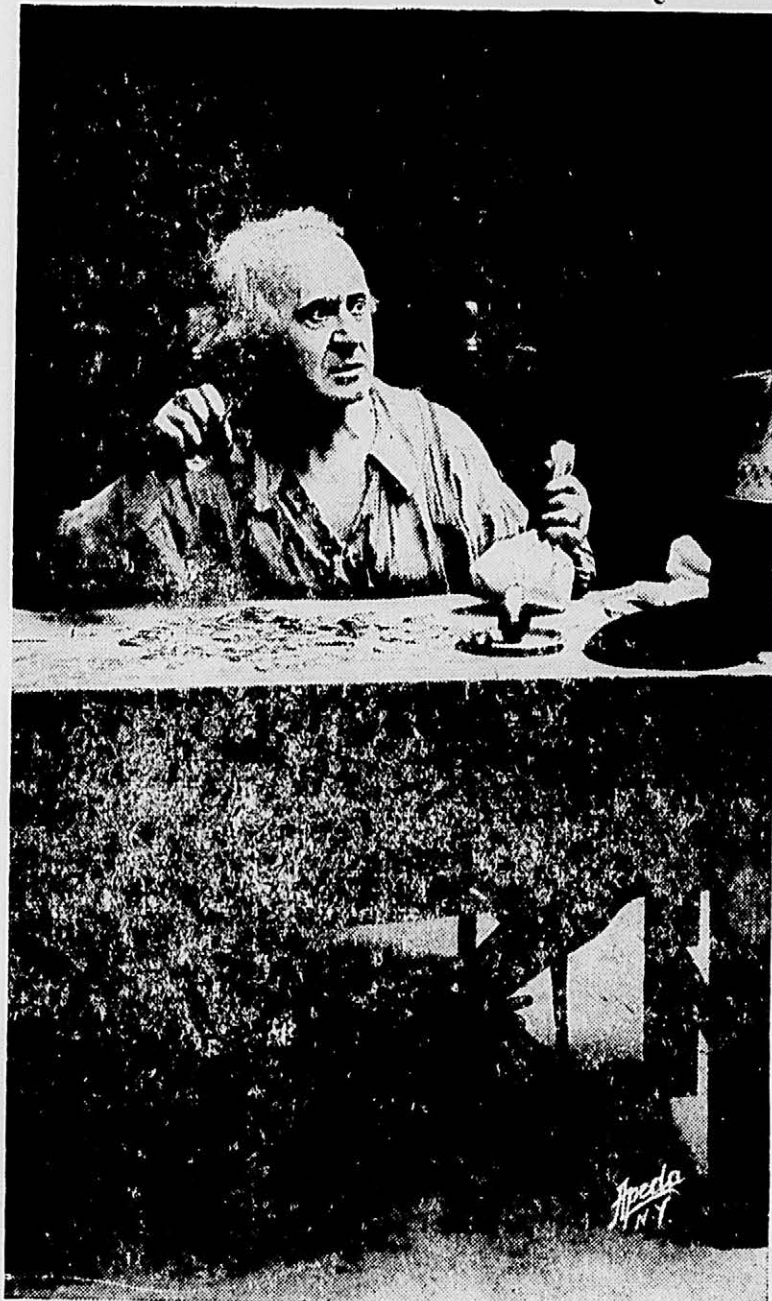

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

The course for the American intercollegiate harrier meet has been finally mapped out and seems to be about the most trying that possibly could have been selected. It takes place on Nov. 23 at Ithaca and ends at Cornell University a distance of six miles running through pastures and patches of woodland, over-winding shore paths and up steep inclines

One swamp will be crossed and also some streams, one being thirty-five feet wide and two feet deep.

Efforts will be made at the next legislature to increase the income of the University of California and also to secure an appropriation to erect a modern fireproof building to replace the old north side. The additional income is needed for investigation of farming conditions and to establish lecture and study courses all over the state for the small farmer.

Here is a choice example of "social engineering" recently furnished by two freshmen. The young man asked the "fair maiden" to attend some function or other with him. She accepted, whereupon he said, "Pardon me, but what is your name?" A few trivial remarks were passed and then she inquired, "And what is your name?" Student Life.
